Preparing your next course, lesson, or lecture?

Discover a wealth of biological sciences education resources located at the Biosci Education Network (BEN) portal www.biosciencednet.org. The BEN portal provides access to online educational resources from professional societies, educational organizations, and educators like you. With BEN learning resources — incorporate images into your lecture, use reviews to decide on reading materials, assign digital library articles for class discussions and journal clubs, and simulate lab experiences in preparation for hands-on live labs.
